THE THOMPSON CEMETERY

The Thompson Cemetery is in Section 29 of Grandview Township. It is southwest of Grandview and northwest of Wapello. The first known burial in the cemetery was in 1842. The cemetery is some distance from the road, but can be seen from it. It has been vandalized over the years, and the maintenance has ranged from none to excellent. The THOMPSON surname is the predominant one; some of the other surnames are CAREY, KELLY, KEMP, KUDER, LATTA, MCDANIEL, MCDONNAL, MCGILL, MCNEMER and WILLOUGHBY.

The THOMPSON Cemetery was renovated in August this year (1996), the latest Louisa County Cemetery to receive such treatment through the leadership of Dean Gipple, the support of the Louisa County Cemetery Commission, and the adoption of the cemetery by some civic-minded group. In this cemetery, the group was the FFA Chapter of the Louisa-Muscatine School District. With assistance from Dean and others, the chapter members built new cement bases for most of the grave markers, set the old markers on the new bases; uncovered and straightened other markers, used epoxy cement to repair broken markers, felled dead trees, smoothed the ground and in general did everything they could to restore the cemetery to a suitable condition.

This is a Pioneer Cemetery as defined by legislation passed by the 1996 Iowa Legislature. Dean Gipple was present when Governor Branstad signed the measure into law, and the photograph of those present at the signing was distributed to several Iowa newspapers for publication. George Thompson was also in the photograph. George, of Des Moines, was the great-great-great-great-grandson of William Thompson and his wife, Mary Nichols, the pioneer settlers in 1835 of the land on which the cemetery is located. George was enthusiastic about the cemetery where so many of his ancestors and relatives were resting. He wanted to enclose the cemetery with a new cast iron fence, and to erect a sign for identification purposes. Though there had been no burials in the cemetery for over 50 years, and George was only 38 years old, he selected a plot and told Dean Gipple that that was where he wished to be buried.

His wish came true on August 29, 1996, the result of an unexpected and untimely demise. He now rests peacefully, close to his great, great-great, great-great-great, and great-great-great-great grandparents. He was never a resident of Louisa County, but he had a Louisa County heritage, that he has now joined.

A third cousin twice removed to George is Bonnie McGill Peifer, 3750 E County 17, Lot 71, Yuma, AZ 85365. Bonnie is a member of the Louisa County Genealogical Society, and has presented the Heritage Center with Latta and McGill genealogies, as well as a Thompson genealogy. Her great-great-grandparents are William Thompson and Mary Nichols. Unfortunately, I don't believe either Bonnie or George ever knew of each other: we had plans to put them in contact, but they never materialized because of George's unexpected death.

QUERY

Isaac Martin, born in Indiana in 1844, married Emily P. Carson, daughter of Mitchell M. Carson and Sarah E. Carson of Columbus City, on April 1, 1867. They had 2 children, Lydia P. and Charles Mitchell (my grandfather). Charles married Cora E. Presbury. My grandfather said Emily P. died when he was a boy and Isaac married again, to Margaret McGinnis. I would like to find Isaac's parents' names, and any information on Mitchell and Sarah Carson. Please contact Victoria Martin Gibson, 25704 Road 196, Exeter, CA 93221. Phone 209-592-3017.

MARTIN WOLZ MURDER

One of the most celebrated murder cases in Louisa County history was that of Martin Wolz. The murder occurred on the Wolz farm in Jefferson Township, on July 22, 1933. Wolz was 63 years of age.

Wolz and his housekeeper, Susie Holcroft, had just returned from Oakville, where they had gone for the usual Saturday night shopping and social gathering. Saturday night was a big event in small Iowa towns in the 1930's. James Dilts, a neighbor, had been with them, but had already been dropped off at his home.

They had money with them. The Wolz hogs had been sold and shipped that day, and Howard Smith had paid Martin $373 in cash. It was widely believed that Martin regularly carried large sums of cash with him and that he also had hidden large amounts of cash on his farm. He had reputedly lost $10,000 when the Commercial Bank of Wapello had failed, and no longer trusted banks.

A car drove out of the barnyard when they drove in, and upon entering the house they found a shotgun and a 22 caliber rifle missing. Wolz was preparing to leave and check the gate on the the lane when two men appeared on the porch. The men told him to put his hands up, and when he did not, one shot him in the head with the shotgun, and the other shot through the window and hit him in the spine. Either wound would have been fatal by itself.

It is not known how much money was taken, as the house had been ransacked, and Wolz had had money hidden in various places. The burglars had also missed several caches of money that had been in the house. There was also $342 found in the garage and in the car.

Susie Holcomb managed to escape and run across the fields to the home of the nearest neighbor, James McChesney.

Sheriff George Oakes and Deputy Frank Hook responded and searched the premises. The body of Wolz was taken to Oakville by Coroner Collins. Dr. L. E. Weber of Wapello and Dr. Ditto of Oakville were the physicians initially called, and they took numerous photographs of the crime scene and the body.

The funeral was held at the Toolesboro church on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Hunt, and the interment was in the Mallory Cemetery.

The coroner's inquest was held on Thursday, at Wapello. The coroner's jury members were the Rev.

Jesse Huddle, Dean Parsons and Art Erwin. The proceedings lasted from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with a noon recess.

After almost 7 months of investigation, on February 21, 1934, a confession was obtained from one of the participants, Paul Hake. Hake had long been a suspect, and had worked for Wolz various times as a farm hand. Hake's family lived on the Toolesboro bottoms.

Paul Hake was now 23 years of age. He had only recently been married, on February 3, to Ida Thirtyacre, daughter of Clifford Thirtyacre. Hake had been working in St. Louis for the Gold Dust Corporation, with a Tony Thompson for a boss. An Eddie Tallent was also working with him. Paul had told the others about this rich farmer who always had a lot of money.

On the day of the murder, the three men, after work, had driven from St. Louis to Toolesboro, in Tony Thompson's Chevrolet car. Hake claimed that he had served only as a lookout, and had not known that the other two had killed Wolz, until later. Hake claimed that the other two had told him they had only gotten 90 cents in the robbery.

The investigation had started with Sheriff Oakes and his only deputy, Frank Hook, working on the case. Two state officials were called in to help, but soon went back to Des Moines. Former Des Moines County Sheriff Delbert Murray offered his assistance and was hired as a special investigator. It was through the hard work of Sheriff Oakes and Delbert Murray that the case was broken.

The three suspects had separate trials. All were convicted. Hake and Tallent both received life sentences. Thompson was sentenced to hang, but received a last minute reprieve; he then served a life sentence.

A national magazine, the Master Detective, picked up on the story. A long article about the case was published in the January, 1939 issue, written by James Gordon as told to him by Sheriff George Oakes. The contents page lists the story as MURDER WITHOUT CLUES—How We Trapped the Iowa Torture Killers. Photos are shown of Sheriff Oakes, Delbert Murray, Susie Holcroft, and the home of Wolz that was the scene of the murder. There are also photographs of the three convicted murderers. Thompson always claimed that he was innocent, and Tallent, from prison, later submitted an affidavit that supported this, but Oakes and Murray were always convinced that Thompson was guilty.

Thomas' pension application:

The State of Ohio Columbiana County on the seventeenth day of October in t he year of our Lord eighteen hundred and thirty two, personally appear ed in open Court, before the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas now sitt ing, Thomas Thompson a resident of Centre township in the county and Sta te afore said, aged in December next eighty- eight years of age, who havi ng first duly affirmed according to law, doth on his affirmation make t he following declaration, in order to obtain the benefits of the Act of Co ngress, passed June 7th, 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States, under the following nam ed officers, and served, as Herein stated.

In the year 1777, the most distressing time of the Revolution, when Genl W ashington was driven by the British through the State of New Jersey, and o ver the Delaware river, the British finding that Washington had crossed t he River, they (the British) then encamped on the banks of the river. T he Council of Safety (so called) sat at that time in the City of Philadelp hia, who sent handbills throughout the State of Pennsylvania (in which Sta te I then lived) begging for Godsake, for all men that love this country a nd liberty to turn out, in the countrys defence. I then as an individual v olunteered my services, and was joined by fifty or sixty of my fellow citi zens, who also volunteered. And as I was reckoned a good marksman, and h ad a good rifle, I was nominated captain of the party, and in that capaci ty we marched to Carlisle- poorly provided for a winter's campaign- b ut it was then with us, as the saying is "do or die", we considered our a ll was at stake. At Carlisle we were furnished with money such as it wa s, having none of our own, we were also furnished with other necessitie s- and from there marched to Philadelphia, where the officers of the compa ny were commissioned by the President of the Council of Safety, his name now forgotten. I was there commissioned as first Lieutenant, one Adams got the preference, and at which place we were provided with arms, ammunition, and provisions, and then marched into the State of New Jersey to join the standing Army and placed under the command of Genl Israel Putnam, whose headquarters was at Princeton College- as Washington in the interval had outgeneraled the British in two engagements, in the course of which the brave Genl Mercer fell. From which place Genl Washington went to Morristown, and the British into New Brunswick, to winter quarters. Then Putnam's Brigade had then to watch the movements of the British to keep them from foraging in the country. That winter was spent chiefly in scouting parties, until spring, when we marched to Philadelphia, and there discharged. I think I was in the service at this time between four and five months. During the winter of '78 Congress passed the Militia Law, so I came home. I was chosen captain of the Militia sometime that fall and marched with my company under the command of Colonel Arthur Buchanan to headquarters, which was then at the Valley Forge, from thence down near Philadelphia, the British had their winter headquarters there that winter, we were then placed under the command of Genl Lacy to watch the British, and in keeping them from foraging, as they on the other hand watched us as close in order to kill or take us prisoner, so that we might properly be called the 'flying company', not staying more than 2 or 3 days in one place in that way we spent the whole winter till discharged in the spring. The time that I served at this time was between 3 and 4 months. In the summer of 1779 the Indians and British invaded the Frontier, where I at that time lived, the inhabitants had to gather themselves into the Forts, and defend ourselves. I being commissioned as captain by Congress the command devolved upon me, which for two years, when I resign my commission, having lost my hearing by hardship and toil in my winter campaigns. But continued in the summer for two years longer as a private in Fort Mifflin till peace. We were then under the command of a county lieutenant called William Piper, when we were furnished arms and ammunition, but no pay nor rations. I hereby relinquish any claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declare that my name is not on the Pension Role of the agency of Any State. Affirmed to and subscribed, the day and year aforesaid.

[signed] J. D. Coffin, Clerk [signed] Thos Thompson

We John Thomson, Joseph Gellingham, and John Armstrong residing in the township of Centre, county and state aforesaid hereby certify, that we are well acquainted with Thomas Thompson, who, has subscribed and affirmed to the above declaration; that we believe him to be in December next eighty-eight years of age; that he is respected and believed in his neighborhood where he resides, to have been a revolutionary soldier, and that we concur in that opinion.

Sworn and submitted the day and year aforesaid.

[signed] J. D. Coffin, Clerk [signed] John Thomson

[signed] Joseph Gellingham

[signed] John Armstrong

Which said commission was lost, inasmuch as the Continental money depreciated, I concluded that my commission was of no consequence, therefore I [?] but let ters [?] to them.

And the Court further certifies that it appears to them that John Thomson, Joseph Gellingham and John Armstrong who have signed the above certificate as residents in the Township of Centre county and state aforesaid, and who are credible persons- and that their statements is [?] to credit.

[signed and sealed] J. D. Coffin Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas county of Columbiana

W. Lytle Thompson recalls:

"Grandfather Thompson was... an honest man... but very strict with his family." About 1800, the children became involved with the Methodist movement then sweeping the frontier community. "Grandfather opposed their attending those meetings. Grandmother [saw] the great change in the lives of her children... turning away from their giddy ways and trying to live for something more grand and noble.... Upon her death bed... he promised her " that he would cease his opposition to the children being Methodist...."

After Eleanor's death, Thomas "forgot his promises and kept on in his opposition to the children's views of religion." The children "began to scatter, the old homestead passed into other hands, and Grandfather finally settled in Ohio."

"Thomas [was] endowed with powerful psychic force, so much so that if a death occurred of any relative, though hundreds of miles distant from him, he always knew it... and in due time he would receive word confirming what he had told his family weeks or months before."

"Thomas Thompson and his wife raised in some respect a remarkable family of nine sons, their combined height was about 55 feet, their weight 1800 pounds... all religiously inclined, all at some period of life (except John) were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, all lived and died honorable members of society advocating temperance in all things and as far as I can learn not one of their children but what abhorred alcoholic drinks as a beverage."

His Will, written in his own hand, reads:

In the name of God, Amen, I, Thomas Thompson of Centre Township, Columbia na County and State of Ohio, Being in perfect health and sound memory of mind and understanding, knowing the certainty of Death and uncertainty of the time thereof in order to settle my worldly affairs and thereby be the better prepared to leave this world when it has pleased God to call me hence, I therefore make and publish this my last Will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say First and

MISS MAJORS DIES TODAY AT SOUTH GIFFORD

K.S.T.C. STUDENT GOT PTOMAINIE POISONING BY EATTING
WATERMELON.

Miss Luella Majors, aged 19 years, a student at the Teachers College died today at eleven oclock at her home in South Gifford, according to a message received here shortly before noon.

Ptomaine poisoning was the cause of her death. She became ill at her rooming place, the home of Mrs M.H. Snow, 516 E. McPherson street and her Mother was called the following day and on Friday she was taken to her home. The poisoning was caused from eating watermelon last Wednesday evening.

Miss Majors has been in school here at intervals for 4 or 5 years, having taken some of her high school work here in addition to college subjects. She taught in the public schools at Greencastle last year, returning to Kirksville about the first of the spring quarter, in the early part of March.

Besides her Mother, Mrs John Potes she is survived by a brother, Ernest, about 14 years of age.

Nothing definent in regard to the funeral services had been learned today but it is probable that the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Miss Luella Majors, aged 19 years, a student at the Teachers College died today at eleven o'clock at her home in South Gifford, according to a message received here shortly before noon.

Ptomaine poisoning was the cause of her death. She became ill at her rooming place, the home of Mrs M.H. Snow, 212 E. McPherson street and her Mother was called the following day and on Friday she was taken to her home. The poisoning was caused from eating watermelon last Wednesday evening.

Miss Majors has been in school here at intervals for 4 or 5 years, having taken some of her high school work here in addition to college subjects. She taught in the public schools at Greencastle last year, returning to Kirksville about the first of the spring quarter, in the early part of March.

Besides her Mother, Mrs John Potes she is survived by a brother, Ernest, about 14 years of age.

Nothing definite in regard to the funeral services had been learned today but it is probable that the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Very good health and still goes all the time and walks a lot and drives her car during the day. Has taken to not driving at night. She belongs to DAR and has done a lot for the organization and others as well.

At one time in her teaching she had the great granddaughter of Sarah Thompson Hodge, the sister to my grandmother in one of her classes. That was Donna Crowder, her mother was Margie Wood whose mother was Ada Hodge dau of Sarah.

Esther had been secretary of the Ann Haynes Chapter DAR of Kirksville, MO and went to Washington DC to the Continental Congress in April 1975.

I usually try to visit with her every time I am in Kirksville, which was about once a year until 2 yrs ago when wasn't able to get there as often. Deloma Thompson and Esther and I usually go out to eat and then spend the evening talking of family. I last visited with her in Nov 1994 and visit enjoyable as ever.
